6 BOARD MEMBERS AGREE TO RUN

J. B. WHITE

The woman of today is inclined to be wary in financial matters. There are at least two reasons for this. Primarily, women have become to some degree business partners of their husbands. They are no longer kept in ignorance of the family's financial affairs and even though they do not enter the marts of trade, subconsciously they pick up considerable knowledge of finance. In addition, the way of a high-pressure salesman with a woman has been accorded such wide publicity for years that women have tended toward extreme caution and conservatism. As a class they are no longer the easy marks they once were, or were reputed to have been.

Information in the hands of life insurance companies on the ultimate destination of the millions paid annually to widows is proof, however, that when the General Federation of Women's Clubs some time ago set out to educate womanhood in the pitfalls of investment it had a fertile field to work in. There are still many gullible and innocent investors among the protected sex, in spite of the great strides taken in recent years.

But it is not only women who are in need of this sort of education and enlightenment. It would be a good thing if educational campaigns of this sort were extended to include men, for they probably contribute considerably more than women to the Get Rich Quick gentry.

Philosophers and poets have mused on the inconstancy of woman, but very little on the inconstancy of man. Tradition pictures man as a great positive creature selecting a goal and going straight for it.

How different is this from the man that every wife knows! Try as she may to do the thing that pleases him she will find herself going continually wrong. His only constancy, as she sees it, is his inconstancy.

Does a husband complain that he is dragged away from the quiet and comfort of his fireside too much at night? Let his wife arrange to go out without him and he will feel hurt and insist on tagging along.

Every husband tells his wife that certain of her kitchen preparations he has no taste for. The same detested dish served away from home he will eat with relish and embarrass his good wife by demanding in company why she never cooks such delicacies. Moreover, the appetites and tastes of the inconstant male are so variable as the color of feminine hosiery.

Let men speak wisely of the business barometer and underlying causes, and trends and tendencies. Wives know that these are just the result of the ruminations of husbands who haven't the faintest idea what they want, and no wives about to tell them.

Charges leveled against parents are so numerous that they sometimes doubt whether they have done anything right, but there surely is some truth in the charge that they help to make their children unhappy by giving them too many luxuries and by trying to keep up with their multitudinous hopes and desires.

With countless parents it is a difficult matter to think of a gift for the children because they already have everything. Instead of giving them a piece of cake that they would have enjoyed they have placed the whole cake before them and told them to eat to their fill. Instead of bringing them out a new plaything occasionally they have opened the door to the warehouse and told them to take everything they wanted.

The result is that children have an automobile when they ought to find delight in a bicycle, and by the time they are grown they are bored with life. By giving them too much parents are cheating them out of a big lot of wholesome fun.

Among those sturdy immigrants who have contributed so largely to this great country of ours, let us not overlook the early settlers of Finland.

Pay Old Age Pensions in Full Says Jesse James in Race for Another Term

I consider it my sacred duty to work for the payment of the old age pension, and will make it my principal effort in the coming session to see that this legislation is properly supported by revenue so that no aged person in my district or elsewhere in Texas will be deprived of what they are justly entitled under the constitutional amendment voted by the people.

I favor an old age pension law written in the language of the constitution; giving it to every man and woman in Texas who has lived here the required time, and who is 65 years of age, who is not a habitual drunkard, nor an habitual criminal and who is not an inmate of a state supported institution. These men and women who have passed the 65th milestone are the survivors of a noble people who made and built Texas. These men and women have done their part. It is not their fault that the time has come when it is hard even for the able bodied brainy business man to make a living. These men and women deserve the modest pension voted them by the people of Texas last year. They have earned it and I want Texas to honor herself by paying it.

I wrote and passed through the house (House Bill 46) providing for the immediate payment of the old age pension. With a tax on sulphur, oil, gas, public utilities, and all the natural resources and special interest to pay the old age pension. This (Turn to page 16)

PETITION MADE ASKING OLD BOARD TO OFFER

Dr. W. R. Newton, member could not be contacted at the time a petition was presented by citizens asking that the board offer for election. Other members who have consented to run are: J. C. Representative citizens petitioned the board to offer for election. Cameron recently changed its method of electing trustees by a majority of 2 votes.

The following petition was presented:

"We, the undersigned qualified voters of Cameron, Texas, realize that some move must be taken in order to safeguard the interests of our public schools, and further realizing that an interlocking Board with only a few members introduced each year will logically obviate any sudden disastrous change of policy while allowing, in orderly manner, for any changes desired by the Citizens of Cameron and further because of the intimate knowledge which the present school board has with the projects of the school now under way and because they will be able to better look after the interests of the school than an entirely new board would be, we hereby petition the members of the present board to let their names appear on the ballot for election.

ALLRED CHIDING HIS FOES IN RACE

SHERMAN, July 7.—Four "perfect men" and one "mere human being" competing for the governorship of Texas, Governor James V. Allred told a North Texas crowd here Monday night.

"So far as I can find out, there are only four perfect men in Texas," Allred grinned, "an unfortunately for me they are all running for governor."

"Personally, I can't claim to be perfect. I don't claim that I haven't made mistakes. I am only a mere human being."

"No doubt there are many trifling matters about which my opponents can criticize me. But any mistakes I (Turn to page 8)

Green & Boedeker In Sweeping July Sale Of Fine Merchandise

A good old summer time sale of groceries, furniture and hardware is announced by the Green & Boedeker stores in Cameron. This unusual July selling event is the most sweeping price quotation since the big annual sale held in June of 1935.

Store wide and piled high, this sale indicates a great volume distribution of merchandise. The sale is announced in a page ad in the Cameron Herald this week and the message goes to the readers on Thursday as usual.

The sale is made to include not only all food products but includes items of hardware and farm supplies, including harvest items. The sale will begin Friday and last through Monday and Tuesday of next week.

July merchandising with a vim is the tone of this advertisement.

Fair Texan Nominates Centennial

Politics did not completely dominate the stage in Philadelphia at the Democratic National Convention. The Texas Centennial celebrations had their charming emissary in the person of Marion Fore (right), whose father, Sam Fore, Jr., is the popular publisher of the Floresville Chronicle-Journal. Her commission was signed in Austin by Governor Alfred and presented in Tyler at the annual convention of the Texas Press Association by President Louis Elbert of Galveston. First to congratulate her was Janice Jarratt of San Antonio, lovely sweetheart of the Texas Centennial, who is shown examining her official commission, while the gentleman in the center, also an honoree at the Philadelphia conclave, looks on approvingly from his portrait.

Protests Plan to Change Taxing System

There is active propaganda throughout the state to have tax laws changed so all taxes on real estate will be removed or greatly reduced. This activity comes from wealthy property owners who do not want their property taxed to pay any part of the Old Age Pensions.

There are two plans offered, one to exempt all real estate from taxation for state purposes. This will accomplish the desired purpose. The other is, "the painless sales tax." A tax on groceries, clothing and other necessities. At least seventy-five per cent of this tax will fall on the laboring people.

The people of Texas do not want either of these plans, and if the lawmakers at Austin, consisting of a Governor, Lieutenant Governor, 31 Senators and 152 Representatives, enact either of these plans into law it will be over the protest of the people who vote for and elect them.

GET GULFLUBE—
It's "Stripped for action"!

Poorly refined motor oils, like a swimmer with all his clothes on, can't do an efficient job. They carry too much excess baggage—waste that should be "stripped off" by refining.

Most 25c oils, like a swimmer stripped of part of his clothes, are rid of some waste—but not enough for best performance. No refiner of 25c oils could afford to go further, before Gulf's Multi-sol process was perfected.

GULFLUBE MOTOR OIL, like a swimmer stripped for action, is rid of every bit of excess waste. It's the only Multi-sol-made 25c oil—the finest, purest oil a quarter ever bought. Gulflube gives you better lubrication, lower bills and a cleaner motor. Prove it—at the Sign of the Orange Disc.

SONG OF BLUEBONNETSEura Crockett Winkler, wife of Frank Winkler, who lives in the Rice School House community, a few miles across the river from Cameron, has written a song entitled, "When Blue-Bonnetts Are In Bloom."Mrs. Frances Wright Hausenfluck of Georgetown, has composed music for this song.The music and words glorify the Texas State Flower as has never been done before. It has been submitted to many capable critics, all of whom heartily endorsed both the words and music, and E. G. Council
"The Music Man," of Dallas gives both a triple A rating.The Texas Bar Association has nothing but the best upon its programs for its annual banquet. Mrs.
Hausenfluck played and sang this song at the annual convention of the Texas Bar Association in the banquet hall of the Adolphus Hotel in Dallas.The Herald feels that the people of Milam County are to be congratulated upon the fact that the poetic genius of Mrs. Winkler, said to be a relative of one of Texas' heroes, David Crockett, is receiving such marked recognition. Her sudden rise to fame as a writer sounds like a fairy tale, and the Herald is proud of the recognition that is being accorded Mrs.

With Double YolksWarrentown, Ore.—"The doubleyolk mystery" is the latest barnyard topic of discussion in this section.One of a flock of Rhode Island Red hens owned by Mrs. Percy Springay has been laying double-yolked eggs of tremendous proportions for more than four months.Attempts to identify the fowl have proved in vain, Mrs. Springay said, because all of the hens look alike, eat alike and act alike. The hens are all of ordinary stock.RELATES STORY OF BEAUTIFUL WAR SPYAuthority Tells How Actress Charmed South.San Francisco.—In a weed-grown corner of the Presidio National cemetery here, WPA workers a few days ago discovered a small headstone with the arresting inscription: "Pauline C.
Tyer, Union Spy."No interment record could be found and efforts to identify the grave's forgotten occupant failed until the matter came to the attention of Dr.
A. T. Leonard, director of the California Historical society, who supplied the answer.The woman who rests in the Presidio grave, he said, is Pauline Cushman, the exotic Spanish-French actress.Her entrance into intrigue was a dramatic one, he related. In 1863, she was appearing in a play at the old Wood's theater in Louisville, Ky. Her role called for her to drink a toast to the Union.Louisville was in Union hands. A group of Confederates offered the beauty $500 to drink to the Confederacy instead.She went immediately to the Union provost marshal, who saw a chance to employ her as a spy, and advised her to drink the toast.The following night before a crowded house, she cried:"Here's to Jeff Davis and the Southern Confederacy! May the South always maintain her honor and her rights!"A riot broke out in the audience.
Pauline was summarily discharged and sent packing out of the city.After that she was welcomed everywhere, and all the while she used her charms to extract vital information from her officer admirers, and was in constant touch with the Northern army.Inevitably, suspicion attached to her; twice she was wounded as she fled from death traps, and twice she was found guilty of espionage and sentenced to die.Each time, her seductive beauty and her acting talent saved her.She came to San Francisco in 1872 and lived quietly for 20 years before her death.The surname Tyer, which puzzled those who discovered her grave, was that of the last of her three husbands, Doctor Leonard said.Rattlesnake Farm Owned by Tucson (Ariz.) WomanTucson, Ariz.—Mrs. A. Reidy, of Tuc-son, owns 300 snakes, but that's not half of it—she wants more of them.The reason is that business is booming in one of the state's most unusual occupations, particularly for a woman.
Snakes—rattlesnakes—are figurative bread and butter for Mrs. Reidy, who operates the Reidy Rattlesnake Products company. She isn't the least afraid of the reptiles and says she never has been bitten. Despite that fact she has handled hundreds.In the factory, she makes everything from buttons to neckties from snake skins. Of course, she pointed out, they suggest their origin, but that is what the public apparently wants.Additionally, Mrs. Reidy makes huckles, jewelry and odd trinkets from the snakes' backbones.The venom she extracts from the snakes is about the only part that goes to waste, she said.Chinese Prisoners Chip be of American make. It will be christened "Prison" as a reminder of ARMY LIFE IN WESTVirgil Turner, enlisted man in the Field Artillery at Ft. D. A. Russell, Texas, writes a letter of interest to the editor of the Herald as follows:"I wish to thank you for being so prompt in sending me my home town paper every week. Through your kindness and thoughtfulness I have been able to keep up with everything that has happened of interest in Cameron since I left here last October.

I hope to continue receiving the paper during the rest of my enlistment in the service, as I have thus far."I have had the privilege of visiting many places of interest since I have been in the Service, in southwest Texas. I have been to the ruins of old Fort Davis on several occasions and the picture which was in the Cameron paper several weeks ago was a very realistic photograph of it.
I have conversed with some of the old settlers near the ruins and I find that Fort Davis has quite an interesting history attached to it."Other places of interest located near Fort Davis are: The Modernized Indian Village built by the CCC workers, the Sky Ridge, also a production of the CCC boys, and lastbut not least the McDonald Observatory which is second to the largest of its kind in the world at the present time."The Indian village is a hotel located in the mountains about three miles from the village of Fort Davis.
It is built on the order of the old Indian villages and to my notion is quite a nice piece of architectural construction. I am sure that everyone who has had the privilege of seeing the village will agree with me on that. The Sky Ridge is a road built around a mountain for the purpose of making a way for cars to get to the top of the mountain where there is a tourist camp located. A thrill can certainly be obtained by going for a sky ride."I have found the service in the army very interesting and I hope educational so far during my enlistment, and I don't believe I shall regret the time I am giving to it."Again I want to thank you for your courtesy in sending your paper to me."Sincerely yours,

TIME CHANGES

The old time country doctor with his saddle bags is almost a thing of the past. He was a mighty welcome asset in his day.

During those days you dropped into a drug or jewelry store and fitted yourself with a pair of glasses.

Things are different now. You want someone who is capable to examine your eyes and give you the proper correction for each eye.

With new and improved instruments it is no longer guess work in fitting the exact lenses you need.

No. 7 Enclosed-Gear Mower

WE are anxious to have all of our friends see the New McCormick-Deering No. 7 Enclosed-Gear Mower. We think it is one of the finest pieces of farm equipment we have ever sold!

Everybody who has seen it says they never had any idea that a mower could be built as this one is.

For example: The entire operating mechanism, including drive gears, differential, and countershafts, is assembled compactly in an oil-tight gear housing and runs in a bath of oil. There are four high-grade roller bearings. Operation is so smooth and noiseless that you can scarcely hear the light hum of the sickle!

Special oil seals at the ends of the main axle and fly-wheel shaft, and the oil-tight gear box prevent leakage and protect all working parts against the entrance of dirt and other abrasive materials. Floating action of cutter bar provides ample play without disturbing knife registration.

Miss Bonnelle Neinast Bride of J. L. Calloway In Wedding Here

A notable wedding of the year was solemnized Tuesday evening, 7:30 at the First Presbyterian church when at a service performed by Rev. O. C. Acree, Miss Bonnelle Neinast, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Neinast, was given in marriage to J. L. Calloway, Jr. son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Calloway of Hearne.

The bridal solo "Oh Promise Me" was sung by Billie Triggs, with Miss Katherine Monroe at the organ, the soft strains of the melody merging into the time honored processional to indicate the approach of the bride party.

The mellow glow from cathedral candles in tall branched candelabra, palms banking the chancel railing and white fever few, asters in pastel shades and ferns in the altar vases gave the decoration and provided an ideal setting for this early summer event.

The bride who was given in marriage by her father, wore an exquisite creation of white taffeta, a model made on long lines which depended on its simplicity of fashioning for its great beauty. Small buttons fastened the bodice at the back. The neck line was finished on either side with upstanding Margo model collar and the sleeves were puffed to the elbow with deep fitted cuffs extending to a point over the hands. The skirt flared into a corded train, over which was arranged her veil of illusion which fell from a coronet of shirred taffeta, ornamented with lillies of the valley. She carried a bouquet of white roses and lillies of the valley showered with fever few and for sentiment's sake wore a wide banded gold bracelet, her father's gift to her mother on their bridal day.

The maid of honor, Mrs. Alvin Nolte, was gowned in white organdie over white taffeta. She wore rainbow daisies in her hair. Her arms were filled with asters tied with rainbow tulle. The bridesmaids, Mrs. Gilbert C. McCollum, Jr., of Houston; Mrs. Gill DeWitt of Lufkin and Mrs. R. B. Stedman, wore models of white organdie over white taffeta and rainbow daisies for head dress. All carried arm bouquets of asters in pastel shades tied with rainbow tulle.

Mrs. Neinast, the bride's mother, wore a model of black chiffon over a pastel print crepe and a corsage of small pink flowers.

Mrs. Calloway, mother of the groom, wore a costume of navy sheer. She wore a corsage of pastel tinted flowers.

The groom's attendants included Henry Pattillo as best man and Messrs. R. D. Butcher, R. B. Stedman and John A. Smith as groomsmen.

Mr. and Mrs. Calloway left immediately for their wedding trip which will take them into Mexico and back by way of Austin where they will be guests at a dinner party given in their honor by Mr. and Mrs. James Haygood.

The bride is traveling in an ensemble of navy sheer with harmonizing accessories.

MISS NEINAST HONORED

A rehearsal dinner was given by Mrs. Jim Neinast on Monday evening honoring the wedding party of Miss Bonnelle Neinast. The dinner was given in the dining room at the Bigbee house.

A beautifully appointed table was laid in white linen and centered with a floral decoration of low design, consisting of white fever few and rainbow hued asters and ferns trailing gracefully on the table, formed the setting for guests whose places were found by miniature bride place cards. A four course dinner was served followed by the cutting of the bride's cake, which rested on a table laid with lace and decorated with the same chosen flowers as the dining table.

LORETTA JANICEK BECOMES BRIDE OF LEON ERNST

Before an altar of ferns and flowers with tapering candles, Miss Loretta Janicek became the bride of Mr. Leon Ernst Tuesday morning June 23 at eight o'clock in a double ring ceremony, performed by Rev. Father O'Sullivan in the St. Michael's church of Burlington. Strains from the wedding march played by John Busker announced the bridal party.

The bride entered with her father, by whom she was given in marriage. She was beautifully attired in navy blue chiffon with white hat and slippers and carried an arm bouquet of white carnations and ferns. Miss Marcella Janicek, a sister, was her maid of honor, who was prettily clad in yellow crepe with orchid accessories and carried yellow marigolds. Attending as her best man was Joe Lee Schneider of Cyclone, cousin of the groom.

The bride is the eldest daughter of one of Clarkson's most prominent families, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Janicek. She is an accomplished young woman and quite popular with a large circle of friends.

The groom is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. John Ernst of Barclay. He is a young man held in high esteem in the Barclay community and possesses many sterling qualities of young manhood.

The choir of the St. Michael's church furnished the music and singing which was indeed wonderful.

Following the ceremony the bridal party and a few relatives assembled at the bride's home where a wedding dinner was served. Immediately after the young couple left on a wedding trip to the Texas Centennial at Dallas. They will make their home in the Barclay community where the groom is engaged in farming.

MICHALKA-KRAJACA

Mr. Herman Michalka and Miss Bettie Krajaca, both of this community were united in marriage Tuesday morning June 30 at the St. Monica's church of Cameron. Father Apel performing the ceremony. For the wedding she wore a white dress with hat and accessories to match. The bride was attended by her brother, Robert Krajca and the groom by Adolf Krajca.

After the church service the young couple had a wedding breakfast for the immediate family only at 9 o'clock at the bride's home.

clock at the bride's home.

After breakfast Mr. and Mrs. Michalka motored to Granger, Temple and the Centennial at Dallas. After returning from the trip they will live with her father.

Many friends extend best wishes to the couple and congratulations.

BARBECUE-DANCE

Miss Kathrine Mode was hostess to a barbecue and dance on Monday night at the home of Mrs. W. O. Wilson. Miss Gloria Pearson of Anniston, Alabama, who is a guest in the Mode home, was honor guest.

V. Bryant of San Antonio.

Mrs. Wilson was assisted in the entertainment by Miss Betty Mangum and Miss Ella Bess Haygood.

HONORS MRS. PAUL WERNER

Perfect in detail was the delightful party given on Wednesday afternoon when Mrs. F. C. Fahrendorf invited a number of guests in from 4 to 6, naming as honoree Mrs. Paul Werner of Austin, bride of Paul Werner, formerly of Cameron.

On arriving guests were greeted by Mrs. Fahrendorf and informally invited into the dining room where punch and assorted canapies and sugared nuts were served from a lace-laid table, centered with a bowl, in chartruce shade, filled with zenias in shades of bronze and yellow with the punch bowl of yellow and blue presenting a harmonious effect.

Conversation and games were the diversion of the hour.

The honor guest was presented an attractive smoking stand and Mrs.

Maude Terrell, house guest, received a novelty gift.

In the reception suite a profusion of summer flowers of marigolds and zenias, gathered from the hostess' flower garden added to the charm of the setting where guests were later served ice cream with raspberry sauce and angel food cake.

BUCKHOLTS BRIDE HONORED WITH SHOWER

Mrs. Henry Fuchs, a recent bride, was graciously honored with a miscellaneous shower at the basement of the Hope Lutheran church on Tuesday afternoon July 7.

The basement proved to be a pretty reception room with the many beautiful potted flowers, ferns and cut flowers which were used for decoration. A color scheme of pink and green was used.

Mrs. Albert Horstmann presided over the bride's book which was handmade and designed by Mrs. Leo Fuchs. Many of the guests were amused at the clever pictures which were used in making it.

The merriment of the afternoon began when Mrs. Leo Fuchs directed a number of interesting games and contests. Useful little gifts were presented the winners of the contests who in turn presented their gifts to the charming bride. The guests contributed many valuable recipes to the bride's cook book.

At the conclusion of the games a refreshment plate consisting of cake and ice cream was served by Mesdames H. A. Fuchs, O. H. Denker, John Stoeber, Leo Fuchs and Miss Dora Fuchs.

Alton Leo Fuchs, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Fuchs, brought in the pretty decorated wagon which was heavily laden with gifts, and made a little presentation speech to the bride. Many beautiful and useful gifts were received and the bride graciously expressed her happiness and appreciation for them.

About fifty guests registered in the bride's book.

SNAKES RUN LOOSE IN HOTEL SENDING GUESTS INTO PANIC

Owner Is Bitten and Loses an Arm; Poison Gas Kills Deadly Reptiles.

Montreal.—Nine uncaged deadly snakes which had thrown a wide residential district into terror after one of them had bitten its owner, probably fatally, were killed when a police chemical squad flooded his hotel room with poison gas.

In the Royal Victoria hospital here doctors fought desperately to save the life of the reptile's victim, Edward E. Smith of Schrieber, La., an Egyptian snake farmer whose real name is Abdul Saad. Despite the amputation of his left arm in an effort to halt the venom's spread, physicians feared Smith may die.

Smith, who gave "special exhibitions" of fighting serpents, was bitten by a six-foot deadly water snake as he tried to clean the snake cage.

Snake "Man" Flees.

He rushed from his room and, leaving the cage and door open, ran to a drug store. Police learned of the case and ordered the hotel cleared of occupants until they could locate Miss Florence Zoda, Saad's assistant.

Miss Zoda was found but when she looked into the room she threw up her hands in horror, saying:

"There are seven snakes in there. They're wild with hunger. What's happened to the other five? I wouldn't dare go into that room."

She added that Smith had been starving his cobras, rattlers and moccasins "to make them vicious."

Panic spread through the district when police, acting on Miss Zoda's statement that five reptiles were at large, ordered the street closed and a cordon of pistol-carrying patrolmen around the building.

Chemists Called In.

A corps of city chemists was called in to launch a gas attack on the room, so Miss Zoda could enter it later to search for the missing snakes.

After boring holes through the door, the chemists poured a quantity of potassium cyanide gas through long glass jets into the room.

A few hours later Miss Zoda entered, gathered up the dead snakes and announced that there were only nine. Smith had sent the three others back to his farm the day before, she said.

Smith's arm was amputated within an hour after he reached the hospital. An attending physician said:

"It's very vicious stuff. We will know in about ten days if he will survive."

The poison causes small hemorrhages in the brain and affects the blood. Smith was said to be nearly blind from the poison.

Showing some improvement later, Saad's first question concerned his snakes.

"If they kill them, I'll never get out of this bed alive," he said. "I can't live without my friends. Those reptiles mean everything to me."

He was not told all his snakes were killed.

Soldier of Fortune Dies in Obscurity in China

Shanghai.—Ensign Sarvin, better known as Count de Toulouse Lautrec, representative of a dying school of soldiers of fortune, died recently in a Russian charity hospital here. He was eighty, and left behind nothing but a batch of 60 pawn tickets.

The giant figure of the ensign was well known on the China coast. At one time he had served in the Imperial Russian cavalry.

The ensign liked to recall the stirring days when he says he was about to assume the empty throne of Bulgaria when Alexander III of Russia put an end to his exploits in that direction.

The picturesque Russian was made the hero of a popular novel by an American authoress after an acquaintance in Hongkong.

As a last gesture for the limelight, the ensign offered himself as a test for Dr. Serge Voronoff's "rejuvenation treatment," but nothing came of it.

Card in Mails 22 Years Only 22 Miles Distant

Rochester, Ind.—Andrew E. Babcock, county liquor board member and former county clerk, has received a picture postal card mailed to him from Peru, 22 miles away and 22 years ago. The card bears the mailing date of March 10, 1914.

The card was written by David M. Fisher, Peru, and contained an invitation to Mr. Babcock to spend the night in the Fisher home when he was to be in Peru on a business trip.

Postal authorities cannot explain where the card has been. The card was clean.

Broken Spine Surgery Aided by Padded Cast

London.—A remarkable feat of surgery will enable William Thornton, twenty, a London scaffolder, whose spine was fractured in a road collision, to do light work soon.

He was taken to University College hospital, where he was fitted with a padded plaster cast which keeps the spine rigid. But for this he would have had to lie perfectly still for six months until the fracture had set, and it would take another two months for him to recover his strength.

Thornton's broken spine will not be set for six months.

PADEN PRAISES WORK OF HIGHWAY OFFICIALS

Praise for H. H. Reves, district maintenance man for the Highway department, is expressed by Secretary Paden of the Chamber of Commerce in a letter to Gibb Gilchrist, state highway engineer.

Mr. Paden expressed appreciation for the roadside parks built in the county in his letter as follows:

"It is my understanding that you are the one who promoted the building of the little roadside parks along the Highways of Texas.

"To my mind this is the outstanding work of beautification that has been accomplished for our highways. These parks now dot the Highways at intervals over a great section of Texas and are most attractive to the traveler. They are like the oasis in the desert with their neatly kept grounds, their beautifully built tables and seats, their refreshing shade and their inviting atmosphere, beckoning the traveler to rest and refreshment.

"In no section that I have traveled has a better piece of work been done than that accomplished by your Mr. J. H. Reves in Milam county, and we desire to give this expression of our appreciation to you and to Mr. Reves for the work already accomplished."

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lindle have moved to San Angelo. Mr. Lindle has been in San Angelo for some two weeks, and Mrs. Lindle and daughters, Virginia and Jolene, left Cameron on Thursday morning for their new home. The people of Cameron regret to lose these good people. Mr. Lindle has been an active Boy Scout executive and has already organized a troop in San Angelo.

PANTHERS ATTACK RESCUE PLANE IN BOLIVIAN JUNGLE

Remarkable Story of Adventure Related by Seven Marooned Men.

Rio de Janeiro, Brazil.—A remarkable story of adventure in the jungle is told by passengers of a Bolivian seaplane who have arrived at Puerto Suarez, in the Bolivian Chaco, after awaiting rescue for about two weeks in Matto Grosso.

Six panthers were killed when they tried to attack the party of seven, four passengers and three of the crew. Other wild beasts and savage Indians also were menaces and watch had to be kept day and night against them.

Forced Down in Jungle.

The seven were in the seaplane Neni, which disappeared some weeks previously. It was forced to land in a desolate part of Matto Grosso, on Bolivian soil. After several days it was located by Bolivian planes sent out to search for it and then a party of army sappers was started for the place.

These soldiers spent many arduous days cutting their way through the jungle. They finally found the plane in a swamp. Through the swamp they improvised a runway that enabled the Neni to take off, after it had been repaired, and it made its way to Puerto Suarez.

The party was fed while the rescuers were approaching by supplies from planes that flew overhead. Camp beds as well as food were contributed in this fashion. Their vigil was also helped by the fact that their plane had been carrying a large shipment of beer. All of this was consumed.

Saved by Luck.

The sappers who rescued the seven on the Bolivian plane had to penetrate some of the most difficult territory on earth. Most of the great Matto Grosso, which extends over a large part of Brazil and parts of Bolivia and Peru, has never been explored. It is cut up by rivers and swamps and the rank undergrowth and vines hanging from trees can be penetrated only by cutting a way through them. Only the luck of having found a large swamp for landing probably saved the men on the Neni.

Dog Barks at Birthday Party; Two Are Killed

Veliki-Kikinda, Yugoslavia.—A dog caused the death of two people, serious injuries to two men, and the arrest of another at his master's birthday party. Michael Hufnuss celebrated his birthday with his family. When his neighbor, Vasza Lazsakov, appeared to present his congratulations Hufnuss' dog barked. Lazsakov became angry and beat the dog, whereupon Michael's mother came to the scene and protested. Vasza answered this with a slap at the woman's head. She fell down and was knocked unconscious.

Hufnuss, believing Vasza had killed his mother, knocked Lazsakov down with an ax. This was the moment for another neighbor, by name of Terzin, to intervene. He wrested the ax from Hufnuss' hand and landed it on the latter's head.

Now neighbor No. 3, Azmin Grossman, stepped in. He disabled Terzin by a stroke with a shovel.

All individuals concerned, except the dog, had to be carried to the hospital, where Mrs. Hufnuss and Lazsakov died.

Terzin was arrested.

Man Cured of Paralysis by Attack of Influenza

London.—Flu has cured the paralysis which chained John Heuchan, fifty-one-year-old English steel worker to a wheel chair for 14 years.

In 1921 Heuchan was employed at the Dalzell steel works. Attacked by paralysis in legs and back, he became a total invalid. His mates bought him an invalid chair.

A few weeks ago he took sick with a bad attack of influenza.

He recovered slowly. To his amazement he found that he was gradually regaining power over his legs.

Improving rapidly, he now is able to walk without assistance. Doctors, nurses and friends are overcome with astonishment. Heuchan said:

"I believe myself that the influenza germ killed the germ of paralysis. Thank God for the influenza germ."

Bulgarian "Witch" Will Hang for Six Murders

Sofia, Bulgaria.—The "Witch of Novibazar" has been sentenced to be hanged for six wild murders. She is Tiza Lublimetch, sixty-seven-year-old crippled, hairless and toothless peasant.

Last year she convinced peasants that her enemy, Stoyevitch, had sold himself to the devil and thereby had obtained supernatural powers which he used to damage crops.

Led by Tiza, the peasants tied Stoyevitch to a tree and beat him. Tiza finally stabbed him in the heart, then filled the dead man's mouth with glass splinters, "to prevent him from communicating with the devil and casting further spells."

Police discovered the body and learned that the "witch" had poisoned five other persons.

"Just to illustrate how utterly silly and trivial and unfair they have been," the governor continued, "I refer you to the record on ribbon cutting and bridge opening.

"My opponents have denounced me all over the state as a ribbon cutter and bridge opener. As a matter of fact, I have been to one ribbon cutting and one bridge opening. That's all! I submit to the public that men who will indulge in such tactics thereby demonstrate their own unfitness for the governor's office.

"Vice President Garner went to a ribbon cutting and bridge opening at Laredo last week. He has been to one and I have been to one. I am wondering whether my opponents will jump on him and denounce him as a ribbon cutter and bridge opener.

"Forty years ago Gov. Hogg said that the people were interested in issues, not men; in principles, not personalities. I am asking the people of Texas to permit me to carry on the program already begun, basing my claim for the second term upon my record. Let the record speak, and I am sure the people will render a righteous verdict."

Big State Shows Will Leave Clean Record In Cameron Visit

No carnival ever came to Cameron that departed leaving the clean, splendid record the Big State Shows have. Roy Gray, their director general, is worthy of congratulations and highest recommendation. This is one carnival that has no girl shows or objectionable features.

Most every person in Cameron met Doc Waddell, chaplain of the Big State amusement enterprise. He gave a message in the Baptist revival and delivered his prison sermon in the county jail. And he is continually busy working here and there to help this and that poor soul in error and mistake and sin. He will leave a lasting impression for good and uplift.

The Big State shows will be in Cameron the balance of this week.

FAMILY REUNION

A family reunion of the Hooker family was held in this city on Sunday June 28 with Mr. and Mrs. Sam Deer as hosts.

Hooker, Jr. and daughter, Betty Jane, Houston; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hooker, Harlingen; Mrs. Grady Scott and son, Grady Allen of Lott; Mr. and Mrs. A. Norquist of Austin, and Mr. and Mrs. Deer. Another daughter, Mrs. Godfrey Jennings of Kosse was unable to be present due to illness.

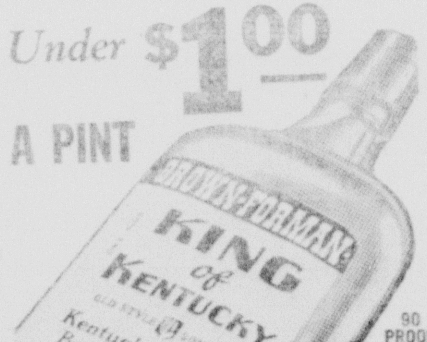

The Big State Shows, a big carnival, brought here last week under auspices of the local American Legion, will remain in Cameron through Saturday, July 11, due to the heavy rains last week.

Cameron Icers Take Second Place In Central Texas League Flag Race

Cameron Icers jumped into second place in the Heart O' Texas League standing by winning two games from the luckless Meridian All-Stars Saturday and managing to edge out the surprising Jarrell Cardinals Sunday 3 to 1.

In Saturday's double header with Meridian, Cameron won the first game in five innings 19 to 0. The Icers had a lead of 9 to 0 in the second game when the All-Stars decided they had enough for the day.

Hayden Lawrence's Cameron Icers won their fifth straight game in the Heart O' Texas league at Lawless Green Field Sunday when they defeated the Jarrell Cardinals by a score of 3 to 1.

Ramsey, a curve ball artist from Texas University, made his debut before the local fans as pitcher for the Icers and his offerings were rapped for 10 hits. Great support by his mates, rather dumb base running by Jarrell and tight pitching in pinches by Ramsey held Jarrell to one run. This run came in the 4th on a walk to Sigler and a two base hit by Red Jennings.

The Icers scored in the second on hits by Dowling and Allen, one in the sixth on hits by Munro, Olle and Dowling and again in the 7th on hits by Jackson and Munro.

Cullen Ingram pitched good ball for Jarrell and held the Icers to seven hits, walked only one man and struck out six. It is interesting to note that all seven of the icers hits figured in their scoring and that the Icers did not make a hit except in the innings in which they scored.

Both teams played good defensive base ball with only one error committed on each side. Ed Olle, Icer third baseman, made the only Cameron error but was the defensive star of the day. He had two put outs and eight assists—quite a busy day on the hot corners.

Bud Bell, Dick Craft and Red Jennings were the leading hitters for Jarrell. John C. Monroe and Pete Dowling were the only Icers to make two hits. The game was played in the extra fast time of one hour and twenty-six minutes.

SOFTBALL

In the soft ball league of this city, the Cameron Icers defeated K. of P. by a score of 17 to 9 in the first game and Minerva Oilers nosed out the Magnolia team by a score of 9 to 8 Friday night at the Yoe Athletic Field.

The Cameron Band played between games.

Batteries for each of the teams were: Cameron Icers Lawrence, pitcher, and Albert Matula catcher; K. of P. Maurice Grove pitcher and Fogle catcher; Magnolia, Felix Krause pitcher and Tubby Cabron catcher, both from Burlington; Minerva Oilers, Cone pitcher and Aldridge catcher.

Lady's Painful Trouble Helped By Cardui

Why do so many women take Cardui for the relief of functional pains at monthly times? The answer is that they want results such as Mrs. Herbert W. Hunt, of Halle, Texas, describes. She writes: "My health wasn't good. I suffered from cramping. My pain would be so intense it would nauseate me. I would just drag around, so sluggish and 'do-less.' My mother decided to give me Cardui. I began to mend. That tired, sluggish feeling was gone and the pain disappeared. I can't praise Cardui too highly because I know it helped me." . . . D. R. Criswell, Buckholts Pioneer Rode Ranges and Fought Indians in Early Day

By BERENICE McLERRAN

As a rider of the old Chisholm Trail and an Indian fighter, D. R. Criswell of Buckholts, now in his 78th year, still recalls vividly and tells with a twinkle in his eyes of the fights with the Indians and his experiences in the Wild West of the 70's.

D. R. Criswell was born in Fayette County, October 18, 1858, near Flatonia and received his early education there, going to school at a place known as Plum Grove on the Colorado River. His parents died when he was seven years of age. He resided with his sister and later with an uncle at a place called Black Jack Springs. He later went to school on the Blanco River near San Marcos.

In 1873, following the urge of "go west young man, go west," Criswell found employment on ranches at the age of 16 years. He worked in Frio county on the ranch of John Slaught in La Salle county on the south side of the Nueces River, where Cotulla now stands, and on the Jim Lowe Ranch on the Frio River.

Mr. Criswell relates: "In those days there were no barb wire fences. Our outfit sent out to hunt cattle was composed of about ten men. We rarely ever saw a white woman, but saw a few Mexican women. Deer, wild turkeys and quail were plentiful. What time we were not riding the range, we were hunting."

To go up the trail, we started from San Marcos February 5, 1877, went southwest of Corpus Christi to the Rabbs Ranch, bought additional horses and helped to gather and grade 6,500 head of yearlings and two year olds. All of the cattle that we took up the trail had to be of one brand, what we would call a road brand. These cattle were branded a bow and arrow brand. These cattle were divided into herds with 3,250 cattle in each herd, driven two miles apart and about 12 men to each herd. All along the trail when we camped, the cattle were driven off the trail about one half mile to graze.

From the Rabbs ranch we continued on by Gonzales, Lockhart, Austin, Taylor, Belton, Valley Mills, Meridian into Cook county and on to the Red River station on Red River. It took two days to cross the river and it was up 12 feet and we had to swim the cattle across.

When we got into the Indian Territory (now Oklahoma) we met 1300 Indians being brought from the bad lands of the Dakotas to the Indian reservation. They had about 15 soldiers accompanying them. They were on horses and in wagons. It has been said that there never was but one white woman who went up the trail, and that was Mrs. Amanda Burke, but I saw one white woman when we met those Indians and soldiers. She was Mrs. Menta Wamsley, out in West Texas somewhere. Some years ago I wrote and asked her if she was there and she told me that she was and there was also another white woman with her. She was going up the cattle trails with her husband who was driving a herd of cattle.

"We stopped at the Driskoll ranch about forty miles from Dodge City, Kansas. We cut out a few of the herd there and continued on across the Arkansas River at Dodge City, Kansas to Granddada, Colorado, then up Sand Creek to a station called Kit Corson on a railroad from Kansas City to Denver to the foot-hills of Pikes Peak to a place called Colorado, where we delivered the cattle to Cheatum, Ridding and Ragsdale, ranchers, the 17th day of August, 1877, a 1200 mile journey."

"We delivered the cattle for J. L. Driscoll, who had contracted for their delivery."

"Three of us boys, Charles Maare, Amiel Oberwetter and myself got on the train at Lake Station, Colorado. We were all in our cowboy suits. We got into Kansas City about 4 p. m. Sunday. Everybody was diked up and they stared at us. The street cars were pulled by mules. We registered at a hotel called the Pacific Hotel, the cattlemen's headquarters. Mr. Driskoll suggested that we buy some clothes and get a shave. We got a shave, hair cut and some new clothes and when we went back to the hotel, the clerk didn't know us and asked us to register again."

Again in 1878 we made another (Turn to page 16)

McCormick-Deering No. 7 Enclosed-Gear Mower

WE are anxious to have all of our friends see the New McCormick-Deering No. 7 Enclosed-Gear Mower. We think it is one of the finest pieces of farm equipment we have ever sold!

Everybody who has seen it says they never had any idea that a mower could be built as this one is.

For example: The entire operating mechanism, including drive gears, differential, and countershafts, is assembled compactly in an oil-tight gear housing and runs in a bath of oil. There are four high-grade roller bearings. Operation is so smooth and noiseless that you can scarcely hear the light hum of the sickle!

Special oil seals at the ends of the main axle and fly-wheel shaft, and the oil-tight gear box prevent leakage and protect all working parts against the entrance of dirt and other abrasive materials. Floating action of cutter bar provides ample play without disturbing knife registration.

Resettlers Buy Livestock

An increase in the amount of livestock owned by low income farmers is one result of the first year's work of the Resettlement Administration, which ended with the month of June. Official summaries received by Chas. E. Carr, county supervisor, covering the period to May 1, show that Resettlement borrowers in Milam County purchased 17 horses and 138 mules, 31 dairy cattle, 58 hogs and 220 chickens.

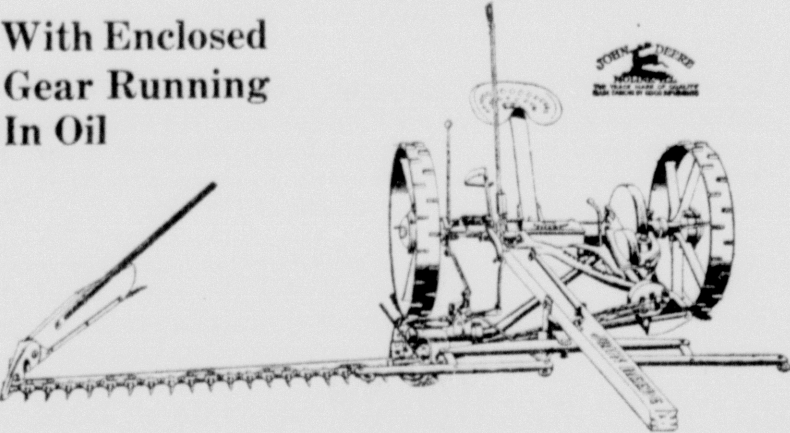

These livestock purchases accounted for $12,461 of the $36,681 loaned in this county. The loans were made to 143 families, of which 118 were white. They included 718 persons. The average loan was $256 per family. Loans for machinery totalled $1,382, harness $48, food $7,940, clothing $2,067, feed for livestock $3,187, seed $3,553.

DETROIT THIEF IS TRAPPED BY LUCK, ASSERTS EXAMINER

Bank Notice Delivered by Accident Reveals $349,000 Shortage.

Chicago.—It was "pure happenstance" that exposed the $349,000 shortage in Detroit city pension funds and caused the suicide of Harry M. Tyler, assistant city budget director.

The force of 40 federal bank examiners working on the books of the National Bank of Detroit had no suspicion whatever that there was anything wrong with city funds accounts, Ben J. Bleakley, who was in charge of the bank examination, declared in his Chicago headquarters.

And it was only by accident that the bank notice giving the total amounts in the various public funds on deposit fell directly into the hands of City Treasurer A. E. Cobo instead of being tossed into the waste basket by one of his assistants.

Tripped by Tracer.

"We are never concerned with any shortage outside the bank which we are examining," Examiner Bleakley explained. "What we are after is to make sure the accounts of the bank are correct. In this case, merely as part of our routine procedure, we sent out what we call 'tracers'—statements showing the amount of public funds on deposit to be verified by the official in charge of such funds. Instead of addressing the city funds statement to 'A. E. Cobo, City Treasurer, City Hall,' one of my assistants apparently addressed the envelope 'Al E. Cobo, City Hall,' and someone, thinking it was a personal note, placed the letter unopened on the city treasurer's desk. As a matter of fact Mr. Cobo almost tossed it aside, but he happened to notice that the total of city pension funds was $71,000 instead of $420,000 and he went to the bank immediately to see what was wrong.

No Mystery About It.

"No mystery about it, you see. Just one of those million and one unsuspected details which always seem to turn up sooner or later to trip the embezzler—something he has not thought of or which he can't control. The records of the bank were in perfect order and there had been no tampering with them in the keeping of the city funds accounts. The withdrawals had all been entered, on checks signed by the city treasurer's name, which had been forged. These withdrawals had been going on for 15 months.

"Evidently Tyler had been falsifying the bank statements which he received every month before he turned them in to the city treasurer. He was in an ideal position to be able to do this because in addition to being the assistant budget director he was also the chief accountant for the comptroller's office and all accounts and statements passed through his hands first."

Woman Risks Her Life to Feed Her Hungry Family

Salmon, Idaho.—Fearful that her family would starve, Mrs. Thomas Strombaugh, mother of ten hungry children, risked her life on the floating ice of the Snake river here when she began her quest for food.

The Strombaugh home, located on an island in the river, is connected to the mainland only by a suspension cable which is pulled across the river by hand.

When her food supply grew dangerously short during a severe storm, the anxious mother attempted to cross to the mainland on the cable. The storm had loosened the cable, however, so that it had slipped to a point midway between the island and the mainland. She was forced to ride floating cakes of ice until she reached the cage.

After pulling herself across the river, Mrs. Strombaugh walked 12 miles through the storm to Salmon, where she was furnished with food by relief headquarters.

Letter Mailed 21 Years Ago Comes Back to Writer

Rochester Ind.—Charles Wallace, attorney, received a letter which had been lost in either United States or Canadian mails more than 21 years. It was mailed here November 25, 1915.

Wallace, secretary of Moose lodge here, sent the letter to Hugh McNehera, Porcupine, Ontario, a member of Rochester Moose lodge, who has died since.

The cancellation on the envelope, now yellow with age, shows the letter was sent from Porcupine to Timmings, Ont. It was from this office that the letter, which bears a 2-cent stamp, postage rate at that time, was returned to Rochester.

Third Bolt Disproves Old Lightning Axiom

Clermont, Iowa.—Lightning never strikes twice in the same place. "Bunk!" says Lloyd Ostlie, farmer living near here.

Ostlie recently completed building a fourth barn on the same location. Two have been burned by fire, resulting from lightning. The other was so seriously damaged it had to be torn down.

Ostlie hopes lightning won't strike in the same place the fourth time.

Colorado Springs, Colo.—The birth of a sacred baboon, perhaps "the only one born in captivity," was announced by J. T. McMillen, superintendent of the Cheyenne Mountain zoo near here. Ancient Egyptians venerated the sacred baboon.

Games Children Play Influence Their Lives

When your child says, "Stick 'em up!" don't laugh. It's serious.

The games your child play probably have more to do with moulding his mental character than any other single influence, in opinions of C. H. Lawrence, director of the Child Development Foundation, and Henry James Forman, behaviorist and author of "Our Movie Made Children."

"The gangster games we constantly see children playing are one of the worst possible influences on youngsters," Mr. Lawrence said. "There may be some few youngsters to whom they are just games, but on the vast majority they leave a definite mark that influences the child's future development."

"Most important is the way in which the gangster is almost always the hero and the policeman the villain. Dramatized play is to be highly recommended, but here we have the kind producing results exactly opposite those we want.

"By our indifference and failure to direct the child's play into proper channels we are in a startling number of cases encouraging a definite future menace."

In his study of thousands of children Mr. Forman has conclusively proven the wrong kind of motion pictures that form the background for this gangster game "complex."

"The movies are one of the most vital educational and amusement forces, but they are one of the most dangerous influences on children when no discrimination is used by parents," he stated.

"So long as these parents let immature children attend movies that only adults should see, we must expect to see it reflected in their play and in turn in their character development."

"The wonder of it is that this movie game influence has not had more bad results than it has."

Dr. William Whitley, Chicago pediatrician, reported cases in which nervous and mental reaction to certain movies had been noticeable on the child for weeks following the show.

Hen Lays Only Eggs With Double Yolks

Warrentown, Ore.—"The double-yolk mystery" is the latest barnyard topic of discussion in this section.

One of a flock of Rhode Island Red hens owned by Mrs. Percy Springay has been laying double-yolked eggs of tremendous proportions for more than four months.

Attempts to identify the fowl have proved in vain, Mrs. Springay said, because all of the hens look alike, eat alike and act alike. The hens are all of ordinary stock.

RELATES STORY OF BEAUTIFUL WAR SPY

Authority Tells How Actress Charmed South.

San Francisco.—In a weed-grown corner of the Presidio National cemetery here, WPA workers a few days ago discovered a small headstone with the arresting inscription: "Pauline C. Tyer, Union Spy."

No interment record could be found and efforts to identify the grave's forgotten occupant failed until the matter came to the attention of Dr. A. T. Leonard, director of the California Historical society, who supplied the answer.

The woman who rests in the Presidio grave, he said, is Pauline Cushman, the exotic Spanish-French actress.

Her entrance into intrigue was a dramatic one, he related. In 1863, she was appearing in a play at the old Wood's theater in Louisville, Ky. Her role called for her to drink a toast to the Union.

Louisville was in Union hands. A group of Confederates offered the beauty $500 to drink to the Confederacy instead.

She went immediately to the Union provost marshal, who saw a chance to employ her as a spy, and advised her to drink the toast.

The following night before a crowded house, she cried:

"Here's to Jeff Davis and the Southern Confederacy! May the South always maintain her honor and her rights!"

A riot broke out in the audience. Pauline was summarily discharged and sent packing out of the city.

After that she was welcomed everywhere, and all the while she used her charms to extract vital information from her officer admirers, and was in constant touch with the Northern army.

Inevitably, suspicion attached to her; twice she was wounded as she fled from death traps, and twice she was found guilty of espionage and sentenced to die.

Each time, her seductive beauty and her acting talent saved her.

She came to San Francisco in 1872 and lived quietly for 20 years before her death.

The surname Tyer, which puzzled those who discovered her grave, was that of the last of her three husbands, Doctor Leonard said.

Rattlesnake Farm Owned by Tucson (Ariz.) Woman

Tucson, Ariz.—Mrs. A. Reidy, of Tucson, owns 300 snakes, but that's not half of it—she wants more of them.

The reason is that business is booming in one of the state's most unusual occupations, particularly for a woman. Snakes—rattlesnakes—are figurative bread and butter for Mrs. Reidy, who operates the Reidy Rattlesnake Products company. She isn't the least afraid of the reptiles and says she never has been bitten. Despite that fact she has handled hundreds.

In the factory, she makes everything from buttons to neckties from snake skins. Of course, she pointed out, they suggest their origin, but that is what the public apparently wants.

Additionally, Mrs. Reidy makes buckles, jewelry and odd trinkets from the snakes' backbones.

The venom she extracts from the snakes is about the only part that goes to waste, she said.

Chinese Prisoners Chip In for Airplane Fund

Peking.—What started with a movement in Shanghai to purchase by popular subscription five military planes to be presented to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek on his coming birthday, has now spread over China.

From Szechuan comes word that inmates of a prison at Wanhhsien are collecting funds to add another plane to the general presentation. Like most of the other new machines this will be of American make. It will be christened "Prison" as a reminder of whose pennies made it possible.

Privates in the Szechuan armies are being asked to dig into their pockets for the birthday gifts also. It is proposed that each provincial division subscribe $5,000.

Big State Shows Here All Week

Rain prevented citizens, with their families, attending the Big State Shows here last week. The downpour rendered the Hearne show grounds impossible, so the Big State outfit remained on the high ground of Wilson-Ledbetter Park, and are giving continuous performances this week. The engagement will close Saturday midnight. The people are happy that this clean carnival stayed for this week, and are responding in large numbers. Director General Gray, of the Big State shows, has made it a bargain week, by giving more free things than any amusement enterprise that ever came this way. Children under 12 free at main entrance, and adults enter at half price—for 5 cents. Music, spicing, ballyhooing, parking, and novelty melange, all free. The aerial circus is free. It features the flying Valentines and Captain Dan Cherry, high diver, two of the world's greatest acts. That all may ride, free tickets are, for the asking, to all the riding devices. These free ride tickets can be had in Cameron stores and business places. As a result, the rides are filled with happy folk. Especially are the baby rides doing a turn of business. Fireworks tonight (Thursday) Free.

Entire families throng to see "Goodman"—the Ripley "Believe it or not," who lets an auto loaded with passengers pass over his neck and body and holds it on his abdomen while reclining on sharp spikes.

Whatever your ideas of a real vacation, you'll find them realized in Texas. Mountains, seashore, missions, foreign atmosphere, gay night life, fishing, golf, historic places. Most every attraction you can find anywhere—right here at home.

Never has a carnival come here like the Big State Shows. It is absolutely clean and that is why in the churches it is said: "This is a clean, wholesome outfit." The Big State shows carry a spiritual adviser—Doc Waddell. He is known as the circus evangelist, and is chaplain of shows. Record-breaking crowds no doubt will mass in the Wilson-Ledbetter Park on the carnival grounds the rest of this week.

Doc Waddell, chaplain of the Big State shows, while here gave message in the Baptist revival; addressed the Men's Bible class of the Methodist church; preached in the Christian church and delivered his prison sermon in the county jail. All in Cameron know what a busy character he is in the uplift of labor. His personal work will never be forgotten.

G-MEN CONTINUE THEIR FIGHT ON PUBLIC ENEMIES

Robinson, Stoll Kidnaped, Is Given Life Sentence in Atlanta Prison.

Louisville, Ky.—Thomas H. Robinson, Jr., latest of the nation's major criminals to be captured, pleaded guilty of the Stoll kidnaping and was sentenced to life imprisonment here.

The twenty-nine-year-old former inmate of a Tennessee insane asylum stolidly heard Federal Judge Elwood Hamilton pronounce sentence.

Robinson slugged Mrs. Alice Speed Stoll, young Louisville society matron, with a lead pipe and kidnaped her from her home here October 10, 1934.

For more than 19 months he eluded the federal agents. He spent most of his time traveling between New York and California, and federal agents said he spent freely the $50,000 paid him as ransom for Mrs. Stoll. He had held her for a week in an apartment in Indianapolis.

He was caught in Glendale, Calif., and whisked here in a government chartered airplane. His sentence came within less than 48 hours after his capture. Judge Hamilton directed that Robinson be sent to Atlanta federal penitentiary with the usual specification that he was subject to transfer to any other federal prison on order of the United States attorney general.

No Longer Public Enemies.

Dead are John Dillinger, Baby Face Nelson, Pretty Boy Floyd, Verne Miller, Clyde Barrow, John Hamilton, Mad Dog Vincent Coll, Dutch Schultz, Legs Diamond, Frank Nash, Ma Barker, and her son Fred. Behind the bars are Al Capone, Machine Gun Kelly, Roger Touhy, Waxey Gordon, Joe Montana, Doc Barker, Lucky Luciano, John Torrio, and Alvin Karpis.

J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the G-men who caught "Old Creepy" Karpis in New Orleans, intends that he shall neither run wild nor creep any more. In St. Paul Karpis awaits trial for the kidnaping of William Hamm and Edward G. Bremer. Hamm paid $100,000 ransom and Bremer $200,000. The Lindbergh kidnaping law provides a death penalty.

But Karpis also has committed a few other crimes for which he could be executed. For instance, there was the murder of a Missouri sheriff who attempted to question Karpis and Fred Barker in 1931, the murder of a South St. Paul policeman in a $30,000 bank holdup in 1933, the slaying of three during a $20,000 bank holdup in Minneapolis in 1933, or, perhaps, the "ride" slaying of Arthur W. Dunlap, Ma Barker's second husband, in 1931.

Many Karpis Crimes.

There is no end of crimes committed, or allegedly so, by Karpis from the time he was the best marble player in Topeka, Kan., until he became Public Enemy No. 1—and until the night 20 federal agents closed in on him, his woman, and a gangster pal as they climbed into an automobile in front of their pretentious Canal street apartment in New Orleans. Karpis had a narrow escape from death on January 20, 1935, when he was surrounded in a hotel at Atlantic City, N. J. He and his companion, Harry Campbell, shot their way through a cordon of police and fled in a stolen automobile. Behind them they left their women. Karpis' girl was expecting a child. In Pennsylvania they kidnaped a physician and stole his car, which they abandoned in Monroe, Mich.

Karpis eluded the G-men from then until his capture in New Orleans.

Mother of Ten Children Studies to Be Lawyer

Boston.—Being mother of ten children does not dim the ambition of Mrs. Minna Kapstein, Providence, R. I., to realize her life's ambition to be a lawyer.

In fact, according to Mrs. Kapstein, completing four years of study at Portia Law school is harder work than rearing her large family. She takes her final examinations in June.

During her four years of study at the law school Mrs. Kapstein, who is thirty-seven, has motored back and forth from Providence to Boston every day. Her nights are given over to her family and her text books, and about one hour a day is devoted to her work as editor of the senior year book.

She Wishes to Move; He Won't; She Burns Place

New York.—Mrs. Norma Weidhofer, dissatisfied housewife, walked into the police station recently and announced that she had just set fire to her home. Fire apparatus was passing and two policemen trailed it. The second floor of a frame dwelling was ablaze.

Mrs. Weidhofer lived on the second floor of that house with her husband and two small daughters. She wanted to move and her husband wanted to stay. She sent the children out, poured kerosene over the furniture and set fire to it, she told police.

"I think my husband will move now," she observed as she was arraigned on a charge of arson.

Unique Family Mixup

Freewater, Ore.—The marriage recently of a mother and daughter to two brothers created a maze of family relation-entanglements. Following the marriage, the mother and daughter were sisters-in-law, and Mrs. Charles Dodson's brother also became her nephew, while her husband's parents became her grandparents as well as her mother and father-in-law.

Narrow Escape From Death Here For High Diver

Captain Dan Cherry, high diver with the Big State Shows here for the Fourth of July Celebration for Cameron and sponsored by the American Legion, narrowly escaped death Wednesday night.

Captain Cherry came down his 115 feet dive, turning a perfect somersault and as he hit the net which he dives into, he stakes to which the guy lines were attached pulled from the ground. The heavy rains here for the past several days had softened the dirt causing the stakes to pull up. People screamed and turned away, but Captain Cherry quickly arose from the ground and cried "All is well." "It was the closest shave I ever had to bidding farewell to the world," Captain Cherry said.

Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Robbins have returned from a pleasant visit with their daughter in Abilene.

Frances Nabours has returned from a visit in La Porte with an aunt, Mrs. C. H. Critchfield.

trip. I was offered a job by the Cheatam, Ridding and Ragsdale ranch to work for $100 a month, but came back to the Driskoll ranch, 40 miles from Dodge City, Kansas and worked. While working there, 250 Indians had escaped from the Indian territory. They were going through the country, killing and plundering. The Indians killed a man on the Kollar Ranch 12 miles from the Driskoll ranch. They came then to the Driskoll ranch. The Indians started off with some of our ponies. "Wash" Lamkin and I started after two of the Indians. We only had three cartridges for a Winchester and five shots for a pistol. My horse was faster than Lamkins and I outran him. He gave me his pistol. I took two shots at the Indians and one fell from his horse. We went on a little further until we came to a hill. At the top of the hill we stopped and could see many Indians. We turned back to the ranch. Part of the boys were eating breakfast while some of them were watching. We knew that the soldiers were following the Indians so we determined to meet the soldiers. The Indian that I shot was not dead. Jesse Driskoll shot the Indian again as they had scalped the man they killed at the Kollar ranch. One of the boys whose name was "Arizona," said he was going to Deep Hole, at the edge of Kansas. He started but returned. We held consultation and went northeast from the ranch where we saw the soldiers and got in with them. We camped in a deep canyon that night. The next day we overtook the Indians. One of the soldiers was shot when we attacked them.

"That night we stayed at the Mulberry ranch between the Driskoll ranch and Dodge City. We soldiers and cowboys went to Dodge City for reinforcements. The government shipped to us Springfield rifles for the cowboys which came by way of the Santa Fe railroad. Amos Chapman was a government scout with the soldiers. The next day while we were out hunting Indians, we came across a small village deserted. A pet pig was the only living thing we saw. The pig followed one of our wagons. Finally Bud Driskoll killed the pig and later we cooked it to eat. We also came across a wagon that had been abandoned by a sheep herder. The Indians had chopped the wagon up and had slaughtered many sheep.

One evening nine of us were out on a scouting trip about half a mile from camp. The Indians swarmed around us, but it so happened that none of us were hurt in the fight. We spent the night in a ravine. The Indians killed only a horse in the fight. The next morning we found a cowboy killed. We didn't know who he was but he had an envelope on his addressed to Smith. We buried the cowboy on the lonely prairie about 30 or 40 miles from Dodge City. The Indians in a short time left our section of the country.

"In 1878 I went to San Marcos and clerked in a store. Later I went to Fayette county, Texas, and worked in the cattle business. In 1880 I attended Jones Commercial College, Austin, and in 1881 married Belle Secest. In 1883 I moved to Milan county to Bryant Station, and in 1884 moved to Buckholts, where I have lived since. My first wife died in 1895 and 8 months later I married Mrs. Stella Law. We were married at the Union church about three miles from Buckholts."

Mr. Criswell has served as Justice of Peace for Buckholts for 35 years or more. He has three sons, T. F. Criswell of Calvert, C. R. Criswell of Buckholts, Delmar R. Criswell of Olney and five daughters, Mrs. Byrd Taylor, Marietta, Oklahoma; Mrs. Pearl Lassatser, El Paso; Mrs. F. N. Craven, Lubbock; Mrs. W. L. English, Moran and Mrs. George W. Goree, Bee County, Texas.

tax should have raised approximately thirty millions ($30,000,000) dollars. Would have cost the tax payers of Texas practically nothing because about 85 per cent of these natural resources are sold out of Texas. This bill passed the House, reference page 159, page 160 Second Call Session of the 44th Legislature. Had my bill H. B. 416 passed the Senate as we sent it to them every person past 65 years of age would be receiving full payment pensions now.

I voted for the present pension bill on final passage that it might receive hundred votes reference page 288. I thought this bill would be better than no bill at all. Before voting for final passage I wrote with assistance of others an amendment to the bill asking the House of Representatives to refuse to adopt the bill, and send it back to the free conference committee, with the instructions that they cut out or re-write section nine (9) of the bill, this section restricted it to the needy, and read as follows: "Wherein the assistance is to be granted in such amounts as will provide a reasonable subsistence in keeping with the accustomed standard of living of the applicant." Under this Sec. for example a needy farmer who has always worked hard and paid his taxes, but has been able to provide only $4.00 to $6.00 per month to spend would be restricted to such amount. Whereas a spendthrift who has always spent everything he could get hold of would get the maximum amount. If the House had adopted my amendment and sent the bill back to the free conference committee with instruction to re-write this section and leave out the needy clause, and substitute in its place an appropriation of five million ($5,000,000) dollars out of the general funds and to start payment of pensions not later than January 1st, 1936—in other words, you would have been getting your pension all this year. Reference to the above amendment you can find it on page 287 Second Call Session of the 44th Legislature.

My conception of public duty is that as your representative I have at all times served you faithfully and will continue to do so. I will greatly appreciate your vote and support.
